Description:

In One for the Wicked, the thrilling finale to Karina Cooper's Dark Mission series, New Seattle's witches will rise again...or fall forever. Shawn Lowe has one mission: to get the cure for what's killing the city's witches from Dr. Kayleigh Lauderdale, the daughter of his chief nemesis. He knew the job would be difficult, but what he didn't count on was their instant, undeniable attraction, a burning desire that neither one can control. Sexy and satisfying, imaginative and atmospheric, One for the Wicked is a racy page-turner filled with nonstop action and plenty of passion, sure to please fans of paranormal romance.

I suppose I should start my review with, Shawn Lowe is an a-hole. But man, do I love a-hole. (My favorite character in this series is, and always will be, Naomi.) To be more specific, though, Shawn is the kind of guy who wants to be an a-hole, but he can never quite be one. He tries to be a BA (and mostly succeeds), but he's also a bit of a vulnerable man. Kayleigh was the right woman for him, and vice versa. I warmed up to Kayleigh sooner than I expected to, and really empathized with her. She got hit hard with massive things, over and over, within days. I really appreciated that though her upbringing was topside and she should be, by all accounts, a prim and proper, weakened woman -- she wasn't. She was strong throughout the book, and it felt right. Mentally strong and intelligent, she held her own. Plot wise, this book was a race. I always applaud an author who, despite the readers knowledge that there will be some sort of HEA at the conclusion of the book, manages to make me worry and fear for everyone's futures. It wasn't forced, and the chaos was brilliantly written. All in all, thank you, yet again, Karina. Fabulous series. This final novel wrapped everything up nicely, but still gave me a sense that time went on. It wasn't butterflies and rainbows. The fight goes on, but this saga is complete. Absolutely perfect ending to this series.
